Welcome

For some, moving away from home to study is an exciting time in life, for others it can be a little daunting. For parents and guardians, it's a time of change and reassurance that their child's future living arrangements are suitable and safe whilst studying.

Whatever the situation, rest assured RMIT is here to support you all the way. This guide is aimed at domestic prospective students, parents and guardians to help explain some of the accommodation options available to RMIT students, useful information for getting around Melbourne and answer common questions along the way.

This guide may serve as a general guide for others, and has been prepared in accordance with Australian law.

Note: no costs are included in this guide. Please refer to Accommodation provider website for further information.

Moving to Melbourne

Melbourne is the capital city of Victoria and Australia's second largest city. It is renowned for its passion for food, creative arts, design, sports, and festivals.

It is also one of the world's most diverse cities. It benefits from the influences of more than 230 different nationalities, and almost half of its residents were born overseas. The welcoming atmosphere will help you feel at home.

Melbourne is also safe, well-designed and easy to get around on foot, bike, or public transport.

Melbourne – Most livable city

For seven years in a row, Melbourne was voted the world's most livable city. Explore and study in Melbourne: its charm, creative energy and welcoming atmosphere will captivate you.

New to Melbourne

If you are new to Melbourne we recommend that you arrive at least two to three weeks before the start of classes to give you time to arrange short-stay or long term accommodation.

You can also meet with an RMIT Student Support Advisor at RMIT Connect for advice on researching and inspecting properties, so you can find long term accommodation.

rmit.service-now.com/connect/ ►

Moving in

There's a lot to think about when moving into new accommodation, some forward planning will ensure a smoother transition.

---

Moving out

When moving out of your accommodation it is important to plan your moving date according to your lease agreement and submit your intention to move out in writing.

---

Lifestyle and culture

Explore everything Melbourne has to offer: museums and galleries, comedy and theatre, a thriving dining scene, nightlife, and plenty more.

Accommodation options

Short-stay accommodation

Short-stay or temporary accommodation is a place to stay while you become familiar with your new surroundings. This gives you some time to find more suitable long-term accommodation while studying. You could stay at a hostel or hotel close to your campus.

If you have friends or family in Melbourne, you might be able to stay with them while you look for more permanent accommodation and allow yourself time to get to know your surroundings.

Runu Hann

There's a real sense of community, living with a PBSA, but you also have time to go off and do your own thing.

Find out more about Runu

Long-stay accommodation

When choosing long term accommodation consider your requirements and proximity to campus.

Homestay

Homestay or “full board” accommodation is when a room is offered within an existing household by a single person, a couple or family.

This option provides a family-like environment with utility costs and meals included. All homestay accommodation is thoroughly screened to ensure it is a suitable living environment for students.

Student hostels

Student hostels offer a furnished bedroom with access to shared facilities such as bathrooms, laundry, lounge and recreational facilities.

Private rental and shared accommodation

You can rent a house, apartment or studio through a real estate agent or private landlord.

The main advantage of shared accommodation is reduced living expenses making it the most popular accommodation choice for students. Most students enjoy the benefit of living with other people and getting to know their community.

Purpose-built Student Accommodation (PBSA)

RMIT has carefully selected a number of PBSA properties, which meet RMIT's high quality standards.

RMIT's preferred providers of student accommodation provide a supportive and engaging student experience, conveniently located close to campuses and transportation.

- These properties typically include:
  - A variety of furnished room types (studios, twin share, shared apartments).
  - All inclusive rates, which means utilities, high-speed internet/Wi-Fi and other services are covered by the rent.
  - Secure access to building and room
  - Excellent communal facilities
  - Clear, transparent rental rates and agreements.
  - A respectful, inclusive and safe culture.
  - Friendly community with strong links to RMIT to support students.

Other benefits to living in one of RMIT's preferred providers include:

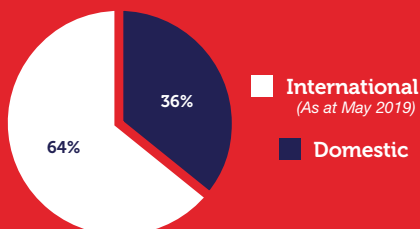

- Living with other students
- Dedicated pastoral care
- Guaranteed 'No Visa, No Pay' policies
- Free resident activities (cooking competitions, fitness classes, movie nights)
- Indoor and outdoor communal spaces (cinema room, games room, BBQ)
- Designated study spaces

Safe, supportive communities

No matter what time it is, there's always someone to provide support if required. Staff are available 24/7 and are trained in first aid, crisis management and dealing with personal issues.

Who lives in PBSA?

There are approx. 1900 RMIT students who reside in RMIT's preferred PBSA properties.

Purpose-built student accommodation

RMIT's approved preferred provider accommodation options are listed on the following pages and all meet RMIT's high quality standards.

Note: Amenities and facilities may vary with each property. Please refer to contact details for confirmation.

Things to consider

- Which RMIT campus or site will I be studying at?
- How much can I afford for rent?
- What type of accommodation suits me?
- How close is it to my RMIT campus?
- How do I plan to travel to campus?
- How close is it to public transport?
- What is nearby, shops, cafes, medical assistance, parks, police station?
- Is it noisy?
- What facilities and amenities are available to me?
- When do my classes start to ensure I can be settle in?
- What if I'm not made an offer to RMIT, can I get a refund?
- What are the costs for the different rooms?
- Do I have a safety plan for travelling to and from the accommodation at night?
- When do I need to look for accommodation?
- When do I need to pay by?
